

IMPROV NETWORKING™

Discover what ImprovNetworking can do for your organization.

ImprovNetworking is an innovative and off-script approach to networking and relationship building for professionals at all levels, customizable to meet the needs of your organization.

Cost-effective • Time-effective • Immediate Results

Half an hour into an ImprovNetworking session, participants are speaking with each other in new ways that are relaxed, natural, and effective. No need to rely upon a scripted process or a formulaic solution.

Find out why Fortune 500 companies (i.e., Google, PepsiCo, MetLife, McKinsey) have embraced applied improvisational learning and development offerings. Outcomes include:

- A greater capacity for spontaneity and creativity.
- Experience being fully present with others.
- The ability to respond quickly and decisively to unanticipated challenges.
- New mind-sets, and a range of inter- and intrapersonal skills for professionals at all levels.

In today's ever changing VUCA (volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous) world, these capabilities are more important than ever.

- Participants leave with an enthusiasm to develop new connections, inside and outside their organizations, and deepen existing relationships.
- Sessions can be delivered via workshops, seminars and ongoing programs. Great for business unit leadership off-sites, conferences, team building, leadership development and on-boarding new employees.

Testimonials

You'll learn how to be more yourself and how to make a more lasting connection with those you meet with Marian Rich's ImprovNetworking.

—Julie Guerrero Schor,
The Aspen Institute

Marian Rich's facilitated activities build confidence and empower participants to perform at their highest potential.

— Libby Westley,
Christopher Newport University

Marian employed wit, charm and humor to create a welcomed diversion from our highly structured program.

— Ken Sassano,
Director of Manhattan BNI* Chapter

*With over 230,000 members in over 75 countries, BNI is the world's leading referral organization.

Schedule a call with Marian Rich: mrich@careerplayinc.com

Marian Rich, Founder of Career Play, Inc. brings over 20 years' experience as an executive search consultant, improvisational performer, and director. She has facilitated workshops for corporations, small and medium-sized businesses, non-profits, and academic organizations. Marian uses humor to create a safe and playful environment for people to step out of their comfort zones and develop new possibilities.